Chea and Amy from the Nailsea Beat Team were engaging with the public at Leigh Woods on the weekend of 16th/17th January. This was to encourage visitors to consider their options to exercise locally, how far they have travelled to the location, and the impact their trip has on an area if a lot of vehicles and people are present. Also the impact their trip may have on emergency services if they were to have an accident.

Please note as above that our Facebook page is now Portishead, Clevedon and Nailsea Neighbourhood Policing. This will give you a broader picture of the work that ourselves and our colleagues covering Clevedon and Portishead do and that we are all part of a wider team. We provide cover for our colleagues on the Clevedon and Portishead beat teams when they are not on duty as they do for us and it is useful to gain a knowledge of other beats and their issues and how our colleagues deal with them. We are also on occasions called down to Weston-Super-Mare to assist with incidents and events.

Welcome to Amy Holland who we are pleased to say has joined the Nailsea Beat Team.

It was amusing to hear some of the comments surrounding the rectangle that appeared in Millennium Park in January. The ideas ranged from a mini police hub to a bus stop to a helicopter landing pad.

As you can see from the excellent demonstration it is a ping pong table.

Many thanks to Nailsea Town Council and Westpoint for making this happen and providing a facility in the park that can be enjoyed by all the community. Judging from the generally positive feedback there are plenty of keen ping pongers out there.
